

HUGHES HAS QUIET DAY

Plays Golf and Takes a 60-Mile Motor Journey

12 HOURS OF
REAL VACATION

His Acceptance Speech May
Be Made at Tremedden

Bridgehampton, N. Y., July 8.—Charles E. Hughes made the most of a day's vacation by participating in a five-mile golf on the links of the Bridgehampton Golf club yesterday morning and by motoring sixty miles to Roslyn, Long Island, yesterday afternoon. The presidential nominee relegated politics for the day, but to-day renewed work on his acceptance and campaign speeches.

Mr. Hughes went onto the golf course, only a stone's throw from Tremedden, his summer home, before the dew was off the grass. With the candidate were Philip Carter, Dr. Colin S. Carter, former Senator Everett Colby of New Jersey, and Mr. Hughes' secretary, Lawrence Green. The score was not announced, but Mr. Hughes laughingly admitted when he returned to his home that "all of my athletic abilities are in my wife's name."

At 1 o'clock Mr. Hughes, with Mrs. Hughes, left for Roslyn, where they attended the organization meeting of the women's national committee of the Hughes alliance. The hostess was Mrs. Harry Payne Whitney. Nearly one hundred women, all interested in the Hughes campaign, attended. Mr. Hughes did not plan to speak.

Talk was heard here yesterday that Mr. Hughes would make his formal acceptance speech at Tremedden, instead of in New York, as contemplated a week ago. By so doing he would follow the precedent established by McKinley, Roosevelt and Taft. The speech is not anticipated before late in the month. Rumor had it, too, that objections were being made to the proposed western campaign beginning the middle of August. However, as said Thursday, the campaign plans are very tentative.

Would Be Governor of New Hampshire.

DEFENSE CLOSES IN ORPET CASE

The State Is Now Calling Its Witnesses in Rebuttal.

Waukegan, Ill., July 8.—Several new witnesses were called in rebuttal yesterday at the trial of Will H. Orpet for the murder of Marion Lambert. Mrs. Claude W. Youker of River Forest, a sister-in-law of Celeste Youker, to whom Orpet was said to have been engaged at the time of Miss Lambert's death, will be one of them.

The defense rested Thursday. Orpet is thought to have won a point when Dr. W. Y. McNally, who three weeks ago, when called by the state, testified that the potassium cyanide found in Marion Lambert's stomach had been taken in powder form, took the stand Thursday and changed his testimony to the effect that it was in a liquid state when swallowed by the girl.

Three chemists then testified that the poison used as a disinfectant in the greenhouses of which Orpet's father is superintendent and to which the youth had access was sodium and not cyanide of potassium.

It is expected that the jury will have the case by next Wednesday.

Rome Reports Another Victory Over Austrians.
Rome, July 8.—The Italian war office yesterday reported another victory for the great allied defensive in the fighting on the Trentino front. Italian troops captured two important positions near Caserazebio and Malgospessa, repulsing a violent counter attack and driving back the Austrians with heavy losses.

SEVERE RHEUMATIC PAINS DISAPPEAR

Rheumatism depends on an acid in the blood, which affects the muscles and joints, producing inflammation, stiffness and pain. This acid gets into the blood through some defect in the digestive process.
Hood's Sarsaparilla, the old-time blood tonic, is very successful in the treatment of rheumatism. It acts directly, with purifying effect, on the blood and improves the digestion. Don't suffer. Get Hood's to-day.—Adv.

DEBATE FEDERAL MEAT INQUIRY

Members of Judiciary Committee of the House Considered the Matter Informally Yesterday.

Washington, July 8.—Members of the House Judiciary sub-committee were considering informally yesterday whether they should recommend a federal inquiry into the meat packing industry.

The committee had before them a mass of testimony taken during hearings which began in March and ended Thursday on Representative Borland's resolution for an investigation by the federal trade commission. Representatives of the cattle producers favored such an inquiry, while the packers opposed it on the ground that it would be detrimental to their business. Cattlemen argued that the action was necessary to insure reasonable meat prices to consumers.

The proposed inquiry, if ordered, may be broadened to include all questions affecting the growth, manufacture and marketing of meat products and allied industries. This is provided for in a substitute resolution offered at Thursday's hearing by Walter L. Fisher, counsel for the National Live Stock association, and accepted by Representative Borland.

The sub-committee will hasten its deliberations in an attempt to report to the full committee, which meets next Tuesday. It is considered doubtful, however, whether its work can be finished by that time.

Handled Most Traffic with Least Loss of Life in July-September Quarter of 1915.

Chicago, July 8.—Railroads of the United States handled more traffic with less loss of life in the July-September quarter of 1915 than in any previous quarter since reports were first made in 1901. According to a bulletin issued yesterday by the bureau of railway news, only 127 lives were lost in train accidents during the July-September quarter last year, the bulletin says.

The smallest total in any similar quarter was 181, in 1914, when traffic was at low ebb.

Baseball Briefs.

President John K. Tenner of the National league stated Thursday night that Johnny Evers, captain of the Boston Braves would be suspended for his actions on a third strike which occurred in Boston last Wednesday. Evers telegraphed an apology to the league headquarters for his action and remarks, but President Tenner refused to let the incident pass without suspension. In a letter in reply to Evers' message, President Tenner sent this message: "Your apology acceptable to me personally. Your suspension will terminate July 15th."

Col. Houston of the Yankees is anxious to obtain Oldring, the old Athletic star. Connie Mack told him to go ahead and try and sign him; he doubted if he could be obtained. The reason that Houston wants this star is that Gilhooley, the crack outfielder of the Yankees is indisputably on the injured list.

CHAUTAQUA LOOMS LARGE

The Advertising and Ticket Committees Commence Work in Barre

FIVE DAYS OF

Some Strong Lecture Numbers with Music as a Feature

The Community Chautauqua is launching a larger every day. The committees in charge of the advertising and the sale of tickets have begun their work, and if the present indications mean anything it looks very much as if the Chautauqua in Barre is going to be a glorious success.

The event will begin August 2 and will close five days later. It is bringing a great list of musical artists, lecturers and entertainers to town, and if the man who holds a season ticket can't get his money's worth out of the Chautauqua he is looking for something besides the best.

The plan of the committee is to make the Chautauqua as low in cost as to include everybody. In fact, on the season ticket plan, these splendid programs can be heard for a few cents a number. The season tickets admit to all sessions, and there are no extras of any sort.

Two Programs a Day.

Two programs will be given on each of the five days. The outstanding feature of the five days will be music, of which there will be a great abundance. An entirely different and distinct set of artists and lecturers will come for each of the five days, so no two days will be alike. These Chautauqua talent folks will move direct from this place to some other Chautauqua, where they will hold forth on the following day. They travel in a complete circuit and appear in as many as seventy towns and cities in seventy days' time, making a town a day.

A large waterproof tent will be pitched in the early morning of the day of the Chautauqua, and the evening program, and all the sessions will be held in the cool shady out-of-doors. Many patrons will find it pleasant to combine the Chautauqua with a picnic or outing one or more of the days of the week, providing a picnic luncheon to be eaten in some shady spot in the two or three hour interval between the afternoon and evening programs.

A most cordial and hearty invitation is extended by the committee in charge to the folks who live in the country and in the neighboring towns. Their hope is to make the Chautauqua a community affair pure and simple. They are emphasizing the fact that it is not just for this town alone, but is for all the people of the surrounding country.

There has been some talk of an automobile excursion into the country and neighboring towns, inviting everybody into the Chautauqua. It is said that more than two-thirds of the Chautauquas on the community list last year took trips of this kind last season and are planning more extensively for sociability runs this year.

A Strong Program.

The program is all that could be desired. It is apparent that the management has spared no expense in making it a grand week from a musical, an artistic from an inspirational standpoint. The coming of Frederick Warde is in itself an event of extraordinary interest, especially in this Shakespearean tercentenary year. Mr. Warde will appear on the third day in a lecture-recital on "Shakespeare and His Plays."

Other notable features are Victor's Florentine band and Neapolitan troubadours on the fourth day. The band is headed by Signor de Carlo, one of the greatest of the younger Italian bandmasters in this country, and has achieved big successes in many large engagements.

Other numbers of special interest are Lee Friend, leader of the Philadelphia bar, who will make the keynote speech of the Chautauqua, appearing on the opening evening. His subject is "The Community Conscience." Besides these are Ole Theobald, the famous Norwegian violinist, and his two assisting artists, Mme. Alice Florence Stitzel, operatic soprano, and Mlle. Helen Kelere, pianist; Andre Vidon, Mexican war correspondent and a writer and scholar of note, who will lecture on "An Inside View of Mexico"; the American quartet and Clayton Cox, red, cartoonist; O'Hara and Wetmore, entertainers; the Dunbar Southern Singers, singing songs of the Southland; Dr. Euclid B. Rogers, a noted lecturer from the middle West, and special features to be added. Among these latter is the Junior Chautauqua for the boys and girls, which will be under the direction of an expert play director.

The Chautauqua will afford a grand vacation for you right here amid the comforts of your home. Plan to get season tickets for the entire family and give them and yourself a chance to enjoy every one of the ten great sessions.

$82,500 BONDS VOTED BY CITY DECISIVELY

payable at the city treasurer's office, the rate of interest and the length of the term or terms of the notes or bonds shall be fixed by the city council, as required by and in compliance with the city charter, but shall not extend over a period of more than 20 years.

And all other particulars as to the form, sale and issuance of said notes or bonds shall be determined by the city council.

When the tellers, Charles W. McMillan, L. R. Rickett, G. R. Varnum, H. W. Scott and Judge F. J. Martin, had counted the ballots the vote was found to stand as follows:

For bonding 278
Against bonding 55

The Pavement Proposition.

Reverting to the second article of the warning, the meeting launched into a discussion of the street paving question. F. E. Langley starting the ball a-rolling by moving that the city issue its notes or bonds for the purpose. The motion was carried viva voce. The third article, to see if the city will issue its notes or bonds for a new bridge over Jail branch, was also included in the same discussion, County Supervisor R. S. Currier making the assertion that the present wooden bridge had been condemned in as many as 10 city reports. So he moved to build the new bridge.

F. A. Walker favored the paving and new bridge but he thought the grade crossing problem opposite the Trow & Holien plant ought to be settled first of all. G. R. Varnum spoke heartily in favor of the proposed new street surface. William Wishart, relating some of his conversation with public service commission members, told of the position intimated by those commissioners that the present crossing is not particularly dangerous. H. H. Jackson interjected some statistics as showing the need for a less bumpy highway, saying that on an average day this spring, a "lowery" day, by the way, a total of 492 teams and 374 automobiles passed over the street from 6 a. m. to 5 p. m. and that in the next hour enough passed to bring the grand total up to 1,006 for the 12 hours. He doubted not that on a fairly decent day the number would have been greatly augmented. After Alexander Duncan had spoken in favor of the road, Alderman E. C. Glysson moved that a sum not to exceed $83,500 for the highway and a sum not exceeding $14,000 for the bridge be voted, his resolution being as follows:

Resolved, That the city of Barre issue its notes or bonds, or both, in a sum not to exceed $47,500 for the purpose of paving a portion of South Main street and building a bridge over Jail branch.

That said notes or bonds be dated and issued as the needs of the city require, when so decided by the city council by resolution duly passed. Said bonds shall be coupon bonds, and the principal and interest shall be payable at the city treasurer's office, the rate of interest and the length of the term or terms of the notes or bonds shall be fixed by the city council, as required by and in compliance with the city charter, but shall not extend over a period of more than 20 years.

And all other particulars as to the form, sale and issuance of said notes or bonds shall be determined by the city council.

The vote on this proposition, while not as decisive as that on the water question, was without any doubt as to the majority sentiment, the vote standing as follows:

For bonding 223
Against bonding 106

"Other Business."

Under the heading of any other business, a motion, introduced by F. E. Langley and amended by N. B. Ballard, was passed recommending that the city council make a contract with the Barre Citizens' band for a series of 16 concerts this summer at a cost of $1,000. Before the motion was put, Silvio Cardo arose and expressed his opinion that it would be advisable to appoint a "neutral" committee to look into the merits of the situation as regards band concerts before the citizens committed themselves. The previous motion was carried by viva voce vote, as was a subsequent motion by F. A. Walker instructing the city council to look into the advisability of using granite in the proposed new bridge. The meeting was then brought to a swift finish.

GRANITEVILLE.

A number of friends of Mrs. Emil Kulmann of Upper Graniteville, whose young son has recently undergone a surgical operation, have canvassed the surrounding territory and raised the sum of $34.59, which they turned over to her.

They were so sore I could not put them in water at all nor even sweep the floor. They were swollen and an awful sight and I didn't want anyone to see them."

"I noticed Cuticura Soap and Ointment advertised and I sent for a sample. The sample seemed to do so much good that I bought more, and after I had used two bars of Cuticura Soap and one and one-half boxes of Ointment my hands were healed."
